an EteryScans release

http://eteryscans.blogspot.com/

This page is really hard to be translated into English. Literally Iota's answer would be translated into "like because", which could be implied that he likes Hina rather than his job, or that he's working because he likes her, so she blushed
You see, Japanese often leaves out the subject in the sentence, making it ambiguous, so he just said that he likes something / someone

Rinnosuke "Okay, sorry that it's been a little longer than usual with this release. Eternia's been really busy as have I, her plan to clone herself to get more work done and plans of world domination have failed. We'll keep plodding along with the chapter and hopefully be able to do the whole series, saying that better raws are always welcome."
Eternia : "Hello! Etery's here. Unlike some hardcore scanlators, both me and Rin-niisan are just your average manga readers, who wish to improve her photoshop skill by editing manga / improve his Japanese and translating skill. So please bear with us. ^_^"
